

TDD com Ruby on Rails, RSpec e Capybara

Jackson Pires

Matchers

The background is a solid green color. It is decorated with various white geometric shapes scattered across the surface. These shapes include squares (some with smaller squares inside), circles (some with smaller circles inside), and plus signs. The shapes are of different sizes and are oriented in various directions, creating a patterned effect.

Matchers

<https://github.com/rspec>

rspec-expectations

Matchers

rspec-expectations ships with a number of built-in matchers. Each matcher can be used with expect(..).to or expect(..).not_to to define positive and negative expectations respectively on an object.

Matchers

Conhecer os matchers é importante para criarmos testes mais expressivos!